PROJECTS

Beanies, Baby!| Developer

Description: An e-commerce site, which allows users to shop for beanie babies.

Used: React, Ruby, Sinatra

- Developed dynamic components for the front end and created a landing page, login page and cart, which streamlined user experience.
- Built a robust, responsive back end using Ruby.

PROGRAMMING

Flatiron School

Software Engineering Student (April 2021—August 2021)

I am studying to be a full-stack developer. My relevant skills include: HTML, CSS, JavaScript, React, Ruby, Rails, and Postgresql

EDITORIAL WORK

Alfred A. Knopf

Assistant Editor (August 2018-April 2021)

Editorial Assistant (October 2014— August 2018)

I was the Assistant Editor who reported to Jordan Pavlin, Vice President and Executive Editor and Erroll McDonald, Vice President and Executive Editor. In shepherding books from initial contract through publication, I was the point of contact for authors during the editing and production processes, and I collaborated with literary agents, designers, legal consultants, publicists, and production staff to ensure that deadlines were met and the author's vision is supported. In addition to this, I have edited authors including Kent Russell, Fernando Aramburu, and Henry Louis Gates
